THE LAKE DWELLERS.

How the Ancient Boaters Wrestled Through Life.

[N. Y. Evening Post.]

In 1872 the very valuable "Clement" collection was derived by purchasing from the collector in Europe. Dr. Clement devoted himself for several years to the investigation of the prehistoric dwellings in Lake Neuchâtel, Switzerland, and the collection is nearly exhaustive of objects illustrating that peculiar phase of ancient life. These old inhabitants of Switzerland, perhaps forced to do so by enemies, adopted a safe, if not wholly comfortable, way of living. Some distance from the shore of the shallow lakes they drove piles upon which their homes were built. No doubt the were tolerably substantial structures, well-roofed and fully capable of keeping out the cold of a winter among the Alps. Many of these houses being planted close together would be joined by a single platform, and the whole connected with the shore by a narrow bridge, which could easily be destroyed, or possibly lifted, in case of hostilities. Underneath each house might have been seen "dug-out" canoes and the racks on which were hung their fish-nets made of the flax they cultivated on the shore, together with their fishing-spears. Their heavy tools were almost wholly of stone—axes polished like glass, set in handles made of part of deer's antler, and of various forms; hammer-stones for pounding; wedges for splitting lumber; heavy mauls for driving piles; flint spears suitable to be fixed in a strong pole handle; arrow-points for hunting. For lighter objects the horns of the stag and roe-deer were employed. From these they formed handles for their axes, hammers, chisels, hammers, awls, etc., and sockets for setting implements made in wooden handles; made from them rings, pendants, boxes, drinking-cups, arrows and spear-points, needles, picks, etc. The horns of the deer seem to have been a mine of material to these lacustrine artisans, and from being allowed a longer life than now, the antlers attained a gigantic size never seen at present. The teeth of all animals were bored and worn as ornaments as our Indians wear bears' teeth; but some incisors were put into handles and used as knives, the hard cutting edge have been ground sharp.

How a Mission Church Was Built.

[San Diego Union]

The priests who built the old San Diego, California, Mission, in 1769 and thereabouts, had to go a long distance inland for the roof timbers to support the heavy tiles made of a dobe. From the old woman now living at Josefa Peters' near San Luis Rey, and whom we believe to be at least 124 years of age, W. B. Coats learned that the timbers for the Mission came from Smith's mountain, at least sixty miles inland from this city. The old lady says that after the timbers had all been nicely hewn and prepared, and blessed by the priests on the mountain, on a certain day a vast number of the stoutest Indians were collected and stationed in relays of about a mile apart, all the way from the summit of the mountain to the foundation of the Mission buildings in the valley near this city. At a given signal the timbers were sprinkled by the assembled priests on the mountain, and were then hoisted on the shoulders of the Indians, and were thus carried to the first relays and changed to their shoulders, and so on, all the way to San Diego, without touching the ground, as it was considered sacrilege to have them touch the ground from the time of starting till they arrived at their final destination in the church. As there is an immense number of these timbers, it shows the zeal and devotion of the Indians at that time, and their obedience to the reverend fathers.

An Enslaved Princess.

The granddaughter of the King of Madagascar died in Somerville, New Jersey, last week, at the good old age of 105 years. Her mother was captured about the year 1770 by the crew of a slave ship, while gathering shells on the seashore near her father's place. She was brought to this country and sold into slavery in New Jersey. Her daughter, whose death occurred so recently, became the property of Theodore Frelinghuysen, one of the ancestors of the well-known family of that name, with whom she continued to reside up to the time of her death. Two children survive her, the youngest being eighty years of age.

Considerable, Very.

Here is a hint for our building department. When the Princess Marie was married at Potsdam, there was some doubt about the stability of the Salle des Coquilles in the palace. To test the floors a battalion of soldiers was marched into the room and ordered to dance. The unsuspicious warriors obeyed, and fortunately did not fall through. Then the bridal party was admitted.

A battle took place near Fort Wallace, Kansas, between the troops and Indians, on the 28th instant, in which Colonel Lewis, of the nineteenth infantry, was killed.

SHORT BITS.

A "shortage" of about 50,000 in the management of the Book Concern of the American Sunday-school Union has been discovered.

A man walked into the Philadelphia yellow fever relief office, gave $1000 to the treasurer, refused to tell his name, and went away unrecognized.

Thomas H. Benton once said: "If I were going to establish a workingman's party, it should be on the basis of hard money—a hard-money party against a paper party."

A man in Illinois committed suicide by drowning, lately, in six inches of water, but his wife, with that self-sacrificing devotion and hopefulness so characteristic of the sex, sat on his head.

A Chicago man, seeing a heavy door nearly off its hinges, in which condition of neglect it had been for some time, observed that when it had fallen and killed some one, it would probably be hung.

Going home from a revival meeting on a Sunday evening, in Aurora, Texas, Ell Ramsdale and Jack Hayes got into a quarrel over a girl, and fought with jackknives for a quarter of an hour. Both were killed.

Charles Stearns suspended himself with his left hand from an upper window in Boston in full view of a throng in the street, and cut his throat with a razor in his right hand. He fell to the ground and died.

Mr. Kearney is respectfully advised by the New Haven Register to settle in some comparatively new region where his mouth can grow up with the country; which shows that the editor of the Register is a slimy imp himself.

A man who was hanged in Indiana, being of a very practical turn of mind, made no observations about meeting anybody in heaven. He merely noted to the preacher and said, laconically, "I'll see you later," and then the trap fell.

Paris, according to Fun, has a sensible method of dealing with the dog question. If a dog is seen in the streets without a collar, the police instantly collar him; if without a muzzle, they provide him with one with a gun at the end of it.

She was a Boston girl. She was visiting her country cousins. While walking out several butterflies passed her. "Oh, dear me, what charming little birds. They are perfectly exquisite." "They are not birds, my dear," replied her country cousin, "they are butterflies." "Oh, you don't say so. Then these are the dear little creatures that fly from flower to flower and gather that sweet yellow butter that we use? They are too lovely for anything."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Don't Forget It.

If you are troubled with nervousness, are disheartened, tired of life, fear death or feel out of sorts, as the saying is, you may safely conclude that you have the Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. The liver is very apt to become torpid at this season of the year, as poisons arising from marshes, stagnant water are more numerous, and are, through inhalation, taken into the blood. Unless the liver is strong and active, and furnishes a supply of fresh and pure blood to drive out the impurities, the above mentioned symptoms surely follow, and if not heeded, and in more terrible diseases and death. White's Liver Pills proves itself the great liver panacea. Its action on the liver is different from any medicine ever compounded. Its cures are truly wonderful. Try it. Price, twenty-five cents and seventy-five cents. For sale by our druggists, Osgood & Snowmaker. an 40

THE NATION "AS THEY CALL IT."

It seems that Barrister Deal, candidate for a high place in the Democratic obsequies of 1878 took occasion to speak of the government of these United States as "the nation as they call it." The surer was very properly appraised and charged to Mr. Deal's account. He repudiates the bill and brings every Democratic paper in the State to help him in proving an intellectual alibi. The fact of this singular unanimity on the part of Democratic scribblers is conclusive proof that Barrister Deal said it and meant what he said.

Our query naturally arises. If Counsellor Deal thinks it a slip of the tongue to call this "a nation," what particular change would he attempt in Congress in order to correct the mistake. We ask this because if Barrister Deal has a good idea on hand he may induce Mr. Daggett to put it in operation.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

They have a Democratic club in Reno. On Friday night this club was addressed by Sam King, candidate for Judge of this district, and Judge Healy. The Record speaks of Healy as "an old Democratic war-horse"—which is good: for Healy is very warlike and very horsey. By the way, if Healy is a war-horse, what kind of a horse is that starchy gentleman Mr. Deal? Ain't he a clothes-horse? And how about old Broadhorns; what kind of a horse is he? Ain't he a pack-horse? While they are trotting out their animals how about "Crazy Horse"? Somehow it seems to us, we have heard the rip-staving Kit designated thuswise. But Healy as a war-horse is good.—Carson Appeal.

The Carson Appeal says: Counsellor Deal, in company with General Kittrell, the representative of Vancouver Island on the Democratic ticket, has gone to Aurora. Mr. Deal will do some stump speechifying in the interest of his interesting party and the no less interesting question of "The Nation, as they call it; and the General, opening wide the throttle valve of his ornate and effulgent oratory, will cause the hills and valleys of Esmeralda to resound as with the bugle-blast of a deluded Southern howitzer belching its thunders through the deserted ramshackles of The Lost Cause. It will be highly interesting and very effective.

The army which Kearney was organizing to move on the overland railroad and tear up every rail, besides murdering every lecherous officer and allying employee of the road, will now probably disband when it knows that Mrs. Dennis wasn't grossly insulted at all. It transpires that the lady was merely unaccustomed to ride in first-class carriages and persisted in getting in everybody's way and the "insult" consisted in a brakeman's insisting on her sitting some place else besides the aisle. Of course the brakeman ought to be hung on the nearest midnight skoy, but the army will be useless.

The Republicans of this county should all unite in securing a large attendance at the meeting which is to be held here on October 11th. The neighboring counties will be represented, and local pride in the Republican State ticket, should see Washoe well represented. Every one of the nominees on the State ticket will be here and speechify the voters. Turn out en masse.

The Virginia Rushlight is frightened because somebody is trying to introduce "God, Christ and the Bible" into our constitution. The Rushlight fears that such action would handicap the Democracy.

This from the Buffalo Express, is worse than a compliment from deacon Parkinson: "The Albany Journal invites us to shed a tear on the grave of Washington. Oh, very well, fetch on your grave."

Harry Mighels, being the slimy owner of no cattle himself jeeringly addresses his beardship, Governor Bradley, as "your bovine majesty."

Ben Butler, for a horny-handed workingman, is pretty comfortably fixed. He rubs along on about $3,000,000.

New cases of yellow fever at New Orleans on the 29th, 264; deaths, 52.

YELLOW FEVER.

Deaths in New Orleans, 52; Memphis, 32; Vicksburg, 9.

NEW ORLEANS, September 29.—The weather is clear and pleasant. Deaths for the twenty-four hours ending at noon, 52; cases reported, 264. Total cases to date, 9285, deaths, 2810. Of the 264 cases reported at noon only 108 occurred since Sept. 26th.

Dr. Thomas Morley of Boston, who came here some weeks ago and opened a store under the city hall for the sale of Dr. Morley's English remedy, said to be a sure cure for fever of any kind, died at 9 A. M. to-day of yellow fever. The doctor showed his faith by taking his own remedies, refusing the attendance of physicians.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 29.—To-day has been a remarkable quiet one. Thirty-two deaths from yellow fever are officially reported by the board of health for the past twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock to-night. Of these ten were colored.

Of the thirty-six inmates of the Leathes orphan asylum fourteen are down with the fever; three were stricken to-day. Sister Francis of the church home has relapsed. Eight of her charge are still sick.

To date there have been 2648 deaths from yellow fever. Dr. R. W. Mitchell, medical director of the Howards, reports the disease dying out, only, however, from want of material.

Twenty-two physicians of the Howard medical corps report ninety-one new cases.

VICKSBURG, September 29.—The weather is clear and warm; thermometer 93. The fever continues increasing at points on the river above here, particularly at Bovina and other places in the country. Delphi, La., reports nine new cases to-day; 13 cases now under treatment, 130 cases in all and 3 deaths. The majority of cases is confined to the blacks. The Howard association of Vicksburg are making every exertion to aid the sick in the surrounding country. There were 9 deaths here to-day. The number of new cases is increasing constantly, but mostly among refugees who have returned from the country.

Five cases are reported at Jackson, Miss.; one death last night and one to-day. MEMPHIS, September 29.—Dr. Louis A. Bryan, recently detailed for duty at Germantown, Tenn., reports having found twenty-five cases of fever at that city, two of whom have since died. They are all within a radius of a mile, and the local physician is amply able to attend them.

WASHINGTON, September 29.—Ex-Governor Shepherd and John T. Mitchell, who left last night for St. Louis, took with them fifty packages of various goods and $1500 in cash, with which to begin the cargo of supplies for the suffering people along the line of the Mississippi river, who are cut off from railroad communication and in great need of assistance.

The Released Fenians.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The released Fenian prisoners, Edward Condon and Patrick Melody, arrived yesterday on board the steamer Moselle. The reception committee, among whom were Col. Richard S. Burke, O'Donovan Rossa and Capt. Aher and many others, assembled on board the revenue cutter Sherman, which was given them for the occasion by the government, and proceeded down the bay to meet the released patriots. They took them on board at quarantine and a scene of the most stirring character took place. The exiles were warmly embraced by their fellow countrymen who had assembled to welcome them to America. Both Condon and Melody looked wonderfully strong and healthy, considering their recent release after an imprisonment of eleven long years. They were delighted beyond measure at the cordial reception which was granted them. They were soon landed at the battery, and thence conveyed in carriages to Sweeney's hotel. The news of their arrival quickly spread, and throughout the day the hotel was thronged with persons desirous of grasping the hands of the exiles. The committee of Nationalists, through Michael Davitt, presented them with a long address of welcome. Both Mr. Condon and Mr. Melody made a brief address, and returned their cordial and heartfelt thanks. No public demonstrations or parade will be given, but a substantial purse is being made up for the parties.

A Stroke of Fortune.

[S. F. Chronicle.] Denis Connors of Sacramento, is a cripple familiarly known as "Old Dennis," and since he was crippled has peddled fruit for a living. By a fortunate chance he invested his earnings and savings in a few shares of Sierra Nevada and Union Consolidated mining stock, which he disposed of recently at an immense advance. A Sacramento paper says that he has since paid $2000 to the Sisters of Mercy, at St. Mary's Hospital in this city, and has received from them a guarantee of food and medical attendance for the balance of his life.

A Complication of Calamities.

[S. F. Chronicle.] At Watsonville, one night last week, a nocturnal stroller struck a match against the side of a building to light his pipe, whereat the solitary watchman of the town rang the fire bell and started out the population en masse. The firemen ran over a dog, which accident resulted in a free fight, during the progress of which a young woman fell off of a balcony in her night apparel and smashed the show-case of a millinery shop.

The Acklin Atrocity.

NEW YORK, September 30.—The Times New Orleans correspondent sends the following additional about the Acklin scandal: To-day the Acklin matter was the topic of conversation all over the city. Acklin selected a committee of four gentlemen to examine all the documents among Smith's effects and the testimony possessed by himself in the matter. Smith's house and the effects were under the seal of the Public Administrator, but Judge Tisso granted an order to remove all seals and have the documents examined. All over the city the charges were considered so atrocious as to be almost beyond belief. The affidavit among Smith's effects sets forth that the mother of Miss Belfry helped Acklin to seduce her daughter, and she gave an affidavit afterwards that Acklin afterwards employed a physician on Rampart street in this city to procure an abortion. Other details are elaborated which makes the story horrible and revolting beyond measure. The visit of Acklin's agent to Smith is considered to have been little short of sheer murder, and is so commented upon freely by everybody.

Reported Killed.

Says the Reveille of Friday: A report is current that E. P. Sampson, formerly a well known miner of Austin has been killed or captured by Indians in northern Nevada, in which section he was prospecting. The story goes that his team and wagon were taken from Indians by whites in the vicinity of Tuscarora. If an account of the affair was published in the Times-Review we missed it; but at all events we hope the report will prove unfounded. Sampson has many friends in this community who, having heard this report, are anxious concerning his fate.

Fight with Indians in Kansas.

CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—General Sheridan has a dispatch from General Pope stating that a detachment of the Fourth cavalry, under command of Capt. Mauch, had an engagement with the Indians on the 28th in the canyons of the Pamished Woman's Fork, near Fort Wallace, Kansas. Lieut. Col. W. H. Lewis of the nineteenth infantry, and three men were wounded. Only one Indian was killed. Col. Lewis died of his wounds on the 29th while en route to Fort Wallace. He was a graduate of the military academy in 1849, a native of Alabama, and about fifty years of age.

An Atrocious Murder.

BRIDGEPORT Conn., September 29.—On May 12th, John Rufus, alias "Stuttering Jack," was murdered in an unoccupied East Bridgeport carriage factory by Frank E. Bassett, who placed the body in a barrel and drove to Dr. Sanford's of the Yale medical school, New Haven, who refused to purchase it without a certificate from the proper authorities. He then drove to Derby, on the west bank of the river, to an unfrequented spot, and rolled the barrel down an embankment into the water. The body was recovered to-day. Bassett is now in jail.

It now appears that the late Gustave Mahe, of the French Savings and Loan Society, was a defaulter in the sum of $816,288, and that he commenced his systematic method of robbery as far back as 1872. If the truth were told it might appear that Mahe became a thief through losses in stocks, for that pernicious method of gambling has made rascals of many.

O'Leary and Hughes.

NEW YORK, September 30.—A walk for the long-distance championship of the world and $1000, between O'Leary and Hughes, was begun in Gilmore's Garden at one o'clock this morning. The time is 142 hours.

The Returning Red Men.

The Reese River Reveille speaks of the noble red man as follows: Most of the Indians who usually make their homes about Austin, but who have been absent in the mountains gathering pine-nuts have returned to town. Their main occupation at present is squatting in the streets, feasting on watermelon. But pretty soon the watermelon season will be over, the white fly will come to cover the earth, and Lo, the poor Indian will be "heap hogadi" and he will be hunting a job of wood-cutting to earn money with which to play poker and buy "bushikit;" and Mrs. Lo will tackle the wash-rub and put in her best licks, that her liege lord and master may have money in his clothes with which to stand pat on an Indian ace-full. While the weather is pleasant most of the Indians disdain to work, and those who will condescend to labor ask exorbitant wages for their services—in the majority of instances as much as whites would ask for the same work. Cold weather and short rations will take some of their independence out of them.

Another Swindler Foiled.

[S. F. Chronicle.] It is remarkable how the intelligence and exertions of the detective force are quickened when there is a job on hand which promises a handsome reward. The latest instance of the kind is the capture of Ellis, the check-raiser, who managed a few days ago to get away with $9000 from one and $800 from another firm of brokers. The game was worth following up, and a speedy capture was the result. But whatever the motives, the police must be complimented upon the result of their work, for they have given another proof of the difficulty of any swindler, who is tolerably well known, getting off safely with his booty from San Francisco. Abbott, who some months back wanted to defraud the Anglo-Californian bank out of even a larger sum than Ellis laid his hands on, tried the sea route; but, when he thought himself safely on his way to a land where no extradition treaty would affect his security, he suddenly found himself within the clutches of the law and was escorted home. Ellis tried to escape by rail, and the same fate has befallen him. The telegraph is too quick and detectives too wide-awake for the light-fingered gentry, particularly when they have made a big haul.

JOTTINGS.

— J. S. Thompson of Nevada city is in town and he admires the situation.
— The delinquent sale of the stock of the Sunrise mining company, has been postponed to the 11th instant.
— Eight car-loads of stock belonging to Todhunter of Sacramento will be shipped in the morning to the city by the slough.
— The Carson folks are jubilant over the prospect for a fine week's racing. Fifteen horses went over to the meeting yesterday.
— The Journal is in error in stating that L. S. Burchard will conduct the Carson Appeal during the campaign. Mr. Burchard has made no such engagement.

The Georgia Minstrels.

The Georgia minstrels had a fine house at the Academy of Music last evening. Every member of the troupe is a darkey, and a darkey of talent. The performance was a capital one—immensely superior to that of the Haverly troupe which disappointed Reno last week. Mr. Bohee is a remarkable person upon the banjo, and picks sweet music from that unlikely instrument. He turns it into a trumpet, a guitar, and a whole brass band by turns. There was genuine fun in the nonsense of the Georgians, and the laughter provoked did not make one feel like an idiot afterwards. It is real plantation life on the stage. The imitation of the antics of a rooster, by Bob Mack, was one of the most laughable and grotesquely life-like bits of imitation ever seen on the stage. The concluding tableau of "Sunset in Georgia" was very effective. The Georgians are by all odds the best minstrel troupe now on the boards.

J. Keen, the Mayor of Bronco.

For some time past there has been a wrangle between Mayor Wicks, of Bronco, and M. Butler of Camp 24, regarding their potato patches and who had the best crop. L. D. Wicks, of Reno, visiting his brother at Bronco, while rambling through the Mayor's potato patch came across a potato weighing one and a half pounds. The Mayor lost the sample to Butler with the request that he should beat it. Butler searched the patch in vain for a satisfactory sample. It was not there. Resolving to intimidate the gaudy Mayor in some way, however, Butler sent down a photograph of his girl baby weighing eleven pounds at birth and requested Wicks to "beat that." The Mayor is now silent, and has given a lease of his potato patch for ninety-nine years.

Jack Frost.

It was windy and frosty last night. Overcoats will be taken for subscriptions to the GAZETTE, likewise Scotch whisky and lemon and sugar and kettles, also nutmegs and meritorious works on life in the tropics.

Edicated to a High Degree.

Speaking of a Democratic candidate this morning one of the faithful enquired of another:
"Is he a man of education?"
"Education! Sure he's educated to hellagons!"

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

The Resolutions and Platform—The Nominations.

The Democratic county convention assembled at the Academy of Music this forenoon. The Muldoons were rather tardy about it, however, there being a misunderstanding about the hour of meeting. Ten o'clock was the proper time, but many of the men of infolence, who, as usual, had not read the newspapers, believed that 12 o'clock was the hour.

B. S. James, Chairman of the central committee, called the convention to order at 11 o'clock.
D. D. Bowen was elected temporary chairman, E. F. Reed, Secretary, and J. M. Flannigan, Assistant Secretary.

The following gentlemen were appointed by the Chair a Committee on Credentials: James, May, Updike, Lemmons and Flint.
The following were appointed a Committee on Permanent Organization and Order of Business: Messrs. Zook, Whitehead, Loooper and Wooten.

The following were appointed a Committee on Platform and Resolutions: Messrs. Winchel, McFarlin and Hughes.

At this point the convention adjourned to one o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The convention assembled again at 1:30 p. m. and was called to order by D. D. Bowen, temporary Chairman.

The committee on credentials reported the following delegates entitled to seats:
Reno—John Dixon, Sr., L. J. Flint, J. H. Bailey, N. J. Roff, F. J. Winchel, D. D. Bowen, G. Chiam, F. C. Updike, A. C. McFarlin, J. J. Zook, R. H. Russell.

Wadsworth—J. G. Hughes, Thos. Cullen and R. F. Gordon.
Washoe—J. G. Loooper, Wm. Gregory, (Wm. Turley, proxy), Wm. Turley.

Franktown—Frank Wooten, T. Twiddle and Maurice May.
Browns—W. D. Hardin, A. A. Longley and B. F. James.

Verdi—D. Scanlan, (L. J. Flint, proxy), A. Wood, (L. J. Flint, proxy), Pyramid—J. B. Whitehead and E. Canby.

Poavine—F. Lemon and C. Taylor. Duck Flat—D. Rideout. Mill—A. Hart.

Glendale—H. Weston and C. C. Gates. Total—33.

The committee on permanent organization reported: President, C. F. Woten; vice-president, A. C. McFarlin; secretary, E. F. Reed; assistant, J. M. Flannigan.

Force Gregory was elected Sergeant-at-arms by a vote of 15 to 14 for C. W. Clark.

THE PLATFORM.

The committee on platforms and resolutions reported as follows:
We your committee on platforms and resolutions have the honor to submit the following to wit:

Resolved, That the convention endorse the platform and resolutions adopted by the Democratic State convention assembled at Carson city on the 23d day of September 1878, as a faithful and eloquent exposition of Democratic principles. Needing no supplement or addenda to make it perfect except a strict adherence to its principles. And that we unqualifiedly pledge our candidates upon the legislative ticket in the enactment of such legislation as will prevent unjust discrimination upon local fares and freights within this State.

Resolved, That we pledge our legislative representatives in a thorough revision of the fee bills and salaries of all State, county, and township officers in order that the remuneration of office shall correspond to the diminished wages of labor; that henceforth the honor of holding office shall be one of its emoluments. A motion prevailed to tax each candidate nominated $5, and each successful Democrat $250 more.

For the COUNTY CENTRAL COMMITTEE John Sunderland, L. J. Flint, A. A. Longley, J. M. Flannigan, Ross Lewers, J. W. Whitehead and A. C. McFarlin were elected by acclamation.

STATE SENATOR.

Under this head D. D. Bowen nominated John Sunderland, of Reno. (Applause.)

J. L. Flint nominated J. P. Richardson. Mr. Richardson took the stand and in a very neat speech declined the nomination, saying that he was a Democrat all the time, and endorsed John Sunderland.

Mr. Bowen moved that John Sunderland be nominated by acclamation. A committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Bowen, James and Loooper, was appointed to bring Mr. Sunderland into the hall. The convention then adjourned for ten minutes.

The convention re-assembled on the arrival of Mr. Sunderland, who seemed very much astonished at the honor conferred upon him. After much solicitation Mr. Sunderland consented to accept the nomination. This announcement was greeted with uproarious applause, which was continued until Mr. Sunderland took the stand and in a very graceful manner returned thanks.

ASSEMBLYMEN.

D. D. Bowen nominated J. P. Richardson. J. L. Flint nominated F. Winchel. J. M. Flannigan nominated C. F. Wooten. Declined.

B. F. James, W. D. Hardin, J. W. Whitehead, George Winters, F. Lemmon, John S. Gilson, A. D. Griffin and F. C. Updike were then nominated in quick succession.

Mr. Wooten then nominated D. H. Lodge, who was absent.

C. C. Gates nominated Geo. Frazier of Wadsworth.

Mr. Wooten withdrew the name of Mr. Lodge.

J. P. Richardson then entered the hall, and learning that he had been proposed, declined.

Mr. Bowen nominated J. J. Becker.

Adjourned for five minutes.

First ballot—Walker 18, Gregory 13.

The convention nominated G. W. Huffaker for Treasurer by acclamation, and was proceeding with its work as the GAZETTE went to press.

Female Extravagance.

Old Mr. Abellier sat down at his pet beer table last night with his grizzled crony Bob Allere, and after looking at the bottom of his fifth glass, observed:

"Women is too extravagant. They don't have to aim money an' they don't know its value. Yesterday I had to buy three cloaks, one for my old woman an' one apiece for each of my gals. There was nice warm ones fur fifteen dollars but they set their hearts on twenty-five dollar layouts, just because there was beads an' braid on 'em. I'd like to know what in thunder good beads an' braid is when it comes to keepin' out the cold? Then I had to lay in two cords o' wood an' a new hat fur the old woman, lookin' like a spring garden. Hillo, Becker! Bring us two more beers. Feel like havin' a whack at poker to night, Bob? I want to get even, your'e about $300 ahead o' me, ain't ye? What's that ye say, Becker? Got to meet a bill an' would like me to pay a little on forty? Well, what's yer bill? Forty dollars. Jerusalem! Oh, it's all right, but it's wonderful the pile o' beer that a feller can get away with inside o' a week or two. There's a twenty fur you. I'll give ye the rest to-morrow. Bring us a deck o' cards. Yes, Bob, if it hadn't been fur that little raise o' mine in Sary Nevada, I do believe the extravagance o' my women critters would a-made it a mighty hard pull fur me this winter. Money's just like so much dirt to women. What's that? Two an' a half blind, eh? Well, I'll straddle it."

Fatal Accident at Rye Patch.

Last evening, a little before six o'clock a Chinaman was fatally injured in the Rye Patch mine. He was working in a stope, when a body of rock, weighing about a ton, fell upon him, cutting his head very badly, and injuring him internally. He was dug out and taken to the surface. A telegram was sent to Reno for Dr. Bergman, but as he was about to start a dispatch arrived stating that the Chinaman had died of his hurts. No one else was hurt by the fall of the rock.

A Tough Lot.

Truckee is becoming the reservoir of all Reno's surplus wickedness. Tar-and-leather Jones is there, likewise the Cooks, also Bass, and last but not least famous, the warlike Canty, the fellow who, it is generally believed, started the fire which destroyed Chinatown. He is not coming back to Reno. He informed a gentleman from this place the other day, that he would probably settle in San Francisco.

New and elegant toilet articles constantly arriving. Call and see them. Queen's Drug Store, west side Virginia street, Reno. 5-11

THE HAPLESS HEATHEN.

Orders Issued to Him to Move from the Vicinity of the Pavilion.

The workmen engaged upon the pavilion were ordered to quit work at 9 o'clock this morning, and superintendent Beck attended a meeting of the Building Committee and tendered his resignation. The reason for this was that the Chinese, contrary to an agreement upon which the ground was purchased, have been allowed to remain on the adjoining lots. Four gangs of heathen are living in the holes in the ground between the pavilion and Virginia street, and the rear of the old paint shop on the corner is occupied by Chinese prostitutes. Mr. Beck had further learned that Mr. Manning, the owner of the property, had sold or was about to sell, part of the ground to a Chinaman.

A gang of Chinamen have also made their homes in old cellar belonging to Mr. Lake. The committee refused to receive Mr. Beck's resignation, and called in a body upon Mr. Manning. That gentleman promised to rescind the sale and keep the promise of his late partner Mr. Duck. Mr. Lake also promised to roust out the heathen and clean his lots opposite the pavilion. The committee then, notified the Chinamen to vacate their dens before sun-down and John has been moving vigorously all day in compliance with the command, having no mind to be washed out by a stream from a steam fire engine. The men resumed work upon the pavilion at 10 o'clock.
